'Right to Repair' – A Concept and the Indian Road Ahead

In July this year, the Department of Consumer Affairs set up a committee to develop a comprehensive framework for 'Right to Repair'. According to some experts, allowing third parties to repair branded products might be a game-changer both for the sustainability of the products and employment generation. The committee held its first meeting on 13th July, 2022 wherein important sectors for the right to repair were identified. The sectors identified include Farming Equipment, Mobile Phones/ Tablets, Consumer Durables and Automobiles/Automobile Equipment. The 'Right to Repair', has been a long-standing tussle between the manufacturers IP rights and the end-consumers' right to get the product repaired at their own convenience...
