Draft Pollution Guidelines to Pave the Way for Greener Pharmaceutical Industry in India

Despite its significant pollution potential, India's pharmaceutical industry has long lacked dedicated environmental guidelines. That is set to change with the Draft Guidelines for the Pharmaceutical Industry recently released by the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB).

While this draft is a welcome step, its success will depend on strict compliance, monitoring, and industry collaboration. What are your thoughts on this development?

Read our latest blog to explore key takeaways and industry impact.
